(24 students did not specify gender) 94 students from Turkey, 126 from Romania, 44 from Greece, 122 from Italy and 214 from Poland participated in the survey.

The results of the questionnaire we applied to the students are given in the below report.

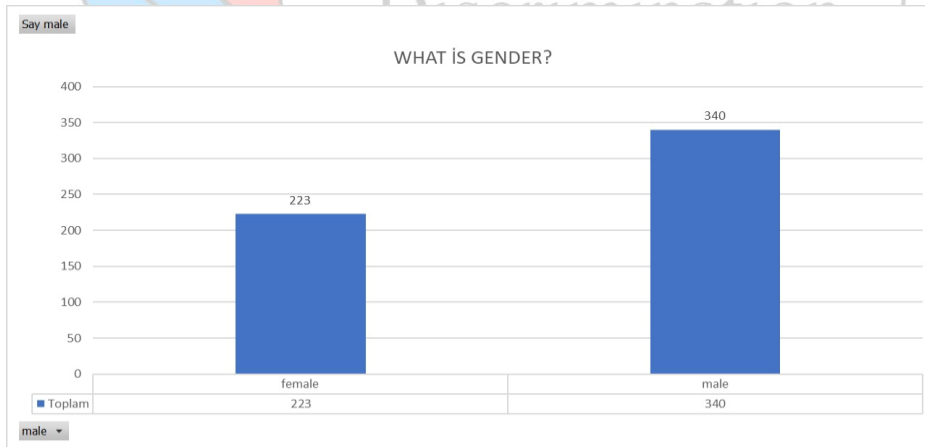

The main topic of our survey is whether there is bullying in their schools or not.

and Discrimination

SUMMARY;

According to the results which we got from the survey, most of the students strongly believe that there is a bullying problem in their schools. Nevertheless, few precautions are taken to prevent students who are bullied, such as some punishments, expelled from schools. On the scope of survey, we get the impression that school counsellors are not sufficient enough to stop bullying at schools. Therefore, students believe that some extra lessons must be given to deter students from bullying. In the light of this search we understand that students must meet police officers to get the accurate information about what they should do if they meet any situations about bullying. More conferences must be organized at schools by police officers. Students who are bullied must be encouraged to share their problems with their friends, school counsellors and their families. Families must be alerted about bullying and consequently giving more informative seminars to the parents could be helpful and useful. We should encourage the students bullied not to stay quiet. We should let them know that being bullied is not their fault and they are not victims and they are not alone.

Erasmus+

Last but not least, BLUE BOXES must be used at schools, since students can't express their feelings freely, it could be a good idea for students to write their problems anonymously into blue boxes, and in other words, we can learn the problems of bullied students and in this way we can help them. We all hope to live in a World where there is no violence, no bullying and no discrimination.
